

ÖĞRENCİ BİLGİLENDİRME NOTU

Ders kitabının temini ve sınav uygulama esasları

Bilgilendirme Tarihi: 28 Mart 2026

Sayın Öğrenciler, yaklaşan sınava ilişkin uygulama esasları ile hazırlık sürecinde dikkat edilmesi gereken hususlar aşağıda bilgilerinize sunulmaktadır. Hâlihazırda ders kitabını temin eden öğrenci sayısının 20 ile sınırlı olduğu görülmektedir. Sınavın açık kitap usulüyle gerçekleştirilecek olması nedeniyle, tüm öğrencilerin dersin resmî kaynağını en kısa sürede temin etmeleri önem arz etmektedir. Bu husus, ölçme ve değerlendirme sürecinin eşitlik, düzen ve akademik ciddiyet çerçevesinde yürütülebilmesi bakımından gereklidir.

Sınav öncesi dikkat edilmesi gereken hususlar

Başlık	Açıklama
Ders kitabının temin yeri	Filiz Kitabevi
Sınavın niteliği	Açık kitap
Sınavda geçerli kaynak	Dersin resmî ve orijinal kitabı
Geçersiz materyaller	Fotokopi, çoğaltılmış nüsha veya bandrolsüz/korsan baskı
Sınav kapsamı	İlk 6 ünite
Soru dağılımı	30 adet test sorusu (50 puan) ve 2 adet klasik olay sorusu (50 puan)
Sınav süresi	1 saat 30 dakika (90 dakika)

Önemli Uyarı

Sınava fotokopi, çoğaltılmış nüsha veya bandrolsüz/korsan baskı materyalle girişe izin verilmeyecektir. Öğrencilerin sınav günü ders kitabının kendilerine ait ve kullanılabilir durumdaki orijinal nüshasını yanlarında bulundurmaları beklenmektedir. Bu uygulama, tüm öğrenciler için eşit koşulların sağlanması ve akademik etik ilkelerinin korunması amacıyla titizlikle uygulanacaktır.

Belirtilen kapsam çerçevesinde ilk 6 üniteye yönelik hazırlıkların tamamlanması; özellikle açık kitap sınav formatının gerektirdiği biçimde konu başlıkları, temel kavramlar ve olay çözümlenmeleri bakımından sistematik bir tekrar yapılması tavsiye olunur. Sınavda hem bilgi düzeyini hem de yorumlama becerisini ölçmeye yönelik soru türleri yer alacaktır.

Belirtilen hususlara riayet edilmesi önemle rica olunur. Bilgilerinize sunar, sınav hazırlık sürecinizde başarılar dilerim.

Ders Sorumlusu

Dr. Öğr. Üyesi Fatih SERBEST

TURKISH COMMERCIAL LAW
An English-Language Textbook

FİLİZ KİTABEVİ
İSTANBUL
2026

Filiz Kitabevi Basım Yayın Dağıtım
Petrol Ürünleri San. ve Tic. Ltd. Şti.
Genel Yayın No | General Publication Number: 1281
Sertifika no | Certificate Number: 77398

Filiz Kitabevi
Yayın No | Publication Number: 2026/30

Kitap Adı: Türk Ticaret Hukuku: İngilizce Ders Kitabı
Book Title: Turkish Commercial Law: An English-Language Textbook
ISBN: 978-625-8585-25-4
DOI: doi.org/10.64161/filiz.9786258585254

Yazar(lar) | Author(s): Dr. Öğr. Üyesi Fatih SERBEST | orcid.org/0000-0001-7724-0828
Kurum | Institution: Tekirdağ Namık Kemal Üniversitesi, Hukuk Fakültesi |
Tekirdağ Namık Kemal University, Faculty of Law

Konu Kategorisi | Subject Categories: Hukuk; Ticaret Hukuku; Türk Ticaret Kanunu; Ticari İşletme Hukuku; Şirketler Hukuku; Kıymetli Evrak; Uluslararası Ticaret | Law; Commercial Law; Turkish Commercial Code; Commercial Enterprise Law; Company Law; Negotiable Instruments; International Trade

Yayın Türü | Publication Type: Kitap | Book - Monograph
Yayın Dili | Language: İngilizce | English
Ebat | Dimensions: 16 x 23 cm
Baskı Sayısı | Edition: 1
Sayfa Sayısı | Pages: 459

Yayın Tarihi | Publication Date: Mart 2026 | March 2026
Yayın Yeri | Place of Publication: İstanbul, Türkiye
Mizanpaj ve Kapak | Layout and Cover Design: Vildan YAVUZ / Özge DANE
Baskı ve Cilt | Printing and Binding: Filiz Kitabevi Basım Yayın Dağıtım
Petrol Ürünleri San. ve Tic. Ltd. Şti.
(Sertifika no: 77398)

© All rights reserved | Filiz Kitabevi Basım Yayın Dağıtım Petrol Ürünleri
San. ve Tic. Ltd. Şti.

Filiz Kitabevi Basım Yayın Dağıtım
Petrol Ürünleri San. ve Tic. Ltd. Şti.
Mollahüsrev Mah. Cemalyener Tosyalı Cad. No: 57A
Vefa-Fatih / İstanbul • Tel: +90 (212) 527 07 18
www.filizkitabevi.com • bilgi@filizkitabevi.com

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

---

The author graduated from the Faculty of Law at Istanbul University in 2003. He obtained his LL. M. degree in International Trade Law from the University of Essex in 2007. He completed his Ph. D. in International Arbitration Law at King's College London in 2013.

Following his doctoral studies, he was a Visiting Scholar at Brunel University in 2014 and served as an Associate Researcher at Chatham House (The Royal Institute of International Affairs) in London, United Kingdom.

Between 2014 and 2020, he worked as an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, İstanbul Sabahattin Zaim University. He is currently an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, Tekirdağ Namık Kemal University, where he also serves as the Head of the Department of Private International Law.

In addition to his primary academic appointment, he teaches Introduction to Law, Law of Obligations, and Commercial Law at undergraduate level at the School of Transportation and Logistics, Istanbul University, and at the Faculty of Administrative and Political Sciences, Yıldız Technical University.

His academic interests include commercial law, international arbitration, private international law, and international trade law.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

---

This book is the product of a practical teaching need that I have felt more strongly each academic year. Istanbul University has continued to expand its 100% English-medium education, particularly within the School of Transportation and Logistics, through a steadily developing curriculum. Since 2022, while teaching Turkish Commercial Law in the Logistics Management undergraduate programme, I have worked with students who are ambitious, internationally oriented, and often encountering Turkish commercial law concepts in English for the first time. The same need is visible in the Administrative and Political Sciences programmes and, increasingly, across many departments where this course is offered as a compulsory subject.

For these reasons, this textbook began as a project with two closely connected aims. The first is to provide a clear and reliable English-language foundation that matches the learning outcomes of Turkish Commercial Law courses taught to undergraduate students at Istanbul University. The second is to respond to a broader reality: Turkish universities now welcome a dramatically increased number of non-Turkish undergraduate students, and English-medium programmes are expanding. In that context, the absence of an accessible, course-oriented Turkish commercial law textbook in English has become a genuine gap—both for students and for instructors teaching similar subjects in English at other universities.

I am grateful to Istanbul University for supporting this project and making it possible to develop a book aligned with course syllabi while remaining academically grounded. I would like to thank the School of Transportation and Logistics at Istanbul University for their assistance and constructive support throughout the process. Their help has contributed directly to turning a teaching initiative into a completed manuscript.

I would also like to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Dr. Selman Karakul, Dean of the Faculty of Law at Tekirdağ Namık Kemal University, for his valued support and for providing an encouraging and productive working environment that greatly facilitated the writing of this book.

Writing a textbook requires balancing clarity with accuracy. I have taken great care to avoid factual mistakes and typographical errors. Nevertheless, in a work of this scope, some imperfections may remain. I alone take full responsibility for any errors, omissions, or points requiring further clarification. I also warmly welcome comments and suggestions from colleagues and students; any feedback that improves precision and readability will be sincerely appreciated and, where appropriate, incorporated into future revisions.

Finally, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my family for their patience, support, and encouragement throughout this project. I am especially grateful to my wife, Ayşe, whose understanding and steady support made the long writing and editing process possible. I also thank my two daughters, İlim and Maya, for their love, joy, and the perspective they brought to my daily life while I worked on this manuscript. This book owes as much to their support as it does to any academic effort.

ABOUT THE BOOK

---

This book is designed as a reading companion for undergraduate courses in Turkish Commercial Law taught in English, with a primary focus on the needs of students in the School of Transportation and Logistics at Istanbul University. It is written in a way that makes it suitable for other departments where Turkish Commercial Law is taught as a compulsory course, and for instructors at other universities who teach similar content in English.

The central purpose of the book is educational. It aims to present the key institutions, concepts, and legal reasoning methods that form the subject matter of commercial law. Commercial law is not only a national field. It is shaped by universal commercial problems—credit, risk allocation, market trust, and the functioning of commercial organisations. For that reason, the book seeks to strike a careful balance between two objectives. On the one hand, it introduces the basic doctrines and theories that help students understand commercial law as part of a broader legal and economic system. On the other hand, it places special emphasis on Turkish law, terminology, and institutional design, so that readers can confidently apply what they learn to Turkish legal materials and practice.

Although this is not an exam-preparation guide, it has been written with a clear awareness of students' future pathways. Many readers will use this material not only to succeed in their course, but also to prepare for competitive examinations or to pursue further studies in commercial law-related fields in Türkiye. For that reason, the book aims to be conceptually systematic, legally accurate, and method-driven. It does not merely describe rules, but explains how and why they operate, and how legal reasoning is built from statutory text, doctrine, and commercial realities.

Each chapter is written in a textbook style and structured to support independent reading before class. The tone is intentionally that of a lecturer guiding undergraduate students: the language is legal, but not unnecessarily dense; the aim is clarity without sacrificing substance. Where Turkish concepts are difficult to translate directly, the book uses established English equivalents while remaining faithful to Turkish legal meaning. The result is a text intended to be useful for both Turkish and non-Turkish students studying in English-medium programmes.

VIII

Finally, the book is offered in the spirit of continuous improvement. Commercial law develops through legislation, judicial interpretation, and commercial practice. For that reason, readers are encouraged to treat this book as a strong foundation and to consult the statutory texts and current developments alongside it. Suggestions for improvement are invited and welcomed; this project is intended to grow with teaching experience, student feedback, and the evolving needs of English-language legal education in Türkiye.

To support students and instructors in using this book effectively, I have prepared a set of PowerPoint presentations aligned with the twelve-week course syllabus. Upon request, I can share these slide decks with students taking the course, students using this book as a companion text, and academics who would like to adopt the book in their own teaching. You may contact me at fserbest@nku.edu.tr

TABLE OF CONTENTS

---

ABOUT THE AUTHOR.....	III
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS .....	V
ABOUT THE BOOK .....	VII
TABLE OF CONTENTS .....	IX
ÖZET.....	XXIX
ABSTRACT .....	XXX

Chapter 1 - Introduction to Turkish Commercial Law: Nature, Function, and Sources .....1

I. Commercial Law and the World of Trade .....	2
II. What Is “Commercial Law”? .....	3
III. Turkish Commercial Law within the Turkish Legal System .....	4
A. The Turkish Commercial Code as a Component of Private Law .....	4
B. “Commercial Provisions” and the Method of Gap-Filling .....	5
C. Commercial Custom and Trade Usage.....	6
D. The International Context of Turkish Commercial Law .....	7
IV. Core Concepts: Commercial Enterprise, Merchant, Commercial Acts, and Commercial Cases .....	8
A. The Commercial Enterprise (Ticari İşletme).....	9
1. Definition and elements.....	9
2. The enterprise as a legal whole. ....	10
3. The enterprise criterion in practice.....	10
B. The Merchant (Tacir) .....	11
C. Legal Consequences of Being a Merchant .....	11
D. Commercial Acts and the Commercial Character of Transactions .....	13
E. Commercial Cases and Specialised Adjudication .....	13

V. The Architecture of Turkish Commercial Law: Main Fields and Their Logic .....	14
VI. Characteristic Features of Commercial Law.....	16
A. Speed, Predictability, and the Costs of Uncertainty .....	16
B. Documentation, Evidence, and the Legal Life of Commercial Paper .....	17
C. Standard Terms and the Economics of Repetition .....	18
D. Commercial Custom, Trade Usage, and “Non-State” Norms .....	19
E. Good Faith, Market Trust, and the Protection of the Good-Faith Participant .....	20
F. Risk Allocation, Credit, and Insolvency Sensitivity .....	20
VII. Historical Development: From Lex Mercatoria to the Turkish Commercial Code.....	21
A. The Law Merchant and the Emergence of Transnational Commercial Norms.....	21
B. Codification and the National Commercial Codes .....	22
C. Modern Developments: International Harmonisation and Private Rule- Making .....	22
D. Turkish Commercial Law in Historical Perspective .....	23
VIII. Competing Models for Defining the Scope of Commercial Law .....	24
A. The Subjective Model: Merchant Status as the Gateway .....	24
B. The Objective Model: Commercial Acts as the Gateway .....	25
C. The Mixed Model: Combining Status and Act .....	25
D. The Enterprise-Based Model: Organised Economic Activity as the Gateway .....	25
IX. Sources of Turkish Commercial Law .....	26
A. Statutory Law and Secondary Legislation.....	26
B. Commercial Custom and Usage as an Auxiliary Source.....	27
C. Party Autonomy, Contractual Design, and Standard-Form Rules.....	27
D. International Treaties, Model Laws, and Soft Law .....	28
E. Case Law and Legal Doctrine .....	29
F. A Disciplined Approach to “Finding the Rule” .....	29
X. Conclusion .....	30
XI. Key Terms and Concepts .....	30

Chapter 2 - The Commercial Enterprise in Turkish Law .....	33
I. The Commercial Enterprise as the Gateway to Commercial Provisions .....	33
II. What Is an “Enterprise” in Legal Terms? .....	35
III. The Statutory Definition: Article 11 and the Integrity Principle .....	36
IV. Continuity: The Enterprise as an Ongoing Economic Activity .....	38
V. Independence: Activity Carried Out on One’s Own Account .....	40
VI. Income Objective and the Artisan Boundary: The Scale Element.....	41
VII. The Commercial Enterprise as a Legal Whole: Elements, Goodwill, and the Logic of Unity .....	43
VIII. From Enterprise to Merchant: The Operator as the Legal Actor and the Core Duties.....	45
IX. Branches (Şube): External Activity and Internal Dependence .....	48
X. Transfer of a Commercial Enterprise: Preserving the Going Concern Through Form and Publicity.....	50
XI. Debts and Creditor Protection: Assumption of Liabilities and Joint Responsibility.....	53
XII. The Commercial Enterprise in Reorganisations: Contribution, Merger, and Conversion .....	56
XIII. Conclusion: Why the Commercial Enterprise Matters for the Rest of Turkish Commercial Law.....	57

Chapter 3 - Commercial Transactions (Commercial Affairs) and Their Legal Consequences in Turkish Commercial Law .....	59
I. The Function of Classification: Why “Commercial” Matters .....	59
II. Commercial Provisions and the Method of Applying Legal Sources.....	60
III. Commercial Custom, Trade Usage, and the Interpretation of Contracts .....	61
IV. Defining Commercial Transactions: The Enterprise Connection (TCC Article 3) .....	63
V. Presumptions of Commercial Character (TCC Article 19).....	65
VI. Consequences of Commercial Nature: An Overview .....	68
VII. Presumption of Joint and Several Liability in Commercial Matters (TCC Article 7) .....	70
VIII. Suretyship in Commercial Context and the Logic of Joint Surety Presumptions .....	73

XII

IX. Interest in Commercial Transactions: Freedom, Limits, and the Exception of Compound Interest (TCC Articles 8-10).....75

X. Late Payment in the Supply of Goods and Services Between Commercial Enterprises (TCC Article 1530).....78

XI. Commercial Disputes as a Procedural Consequence: Commercial Courts and Mandatory Mediation (TCC Articles 4, 5, and 5/A).....80

XII. Concluding Synthesis: A Practical Method for Analysing Commercial Character .....82

Chapter 4 - Merchant.....87

I. General.....88

    A. Merchant status as a legal status .....88

    B. The policy reasons behind a separate merchant regime .....89

    C. Merchant, artisan, and the “borderline” problem .....89

    D. A preview of the practical consequences .....90

II. Natural Persons .....90

    A. General .....90

        1. Merchant (TCC Article 12(1)).....91

            a. Existence of a commercial enterprise .....91

            b. Operation of the commercial enterprise.....92

            c. Operation in one’s own name .....93

        2. Persons deemed to be traders (TCC Article 12(2)) .....94

        3. Persons liable as merchants (TCC Article 12(3)) .....94

    B. Special Cases.....95

        1. Minors and persons with limited capacity (TCC Article 13).....95

        2. Persons prohibited from operating a commercial enterprise or subject to authorisation (TCC Article 14).....96

    C. A note on the artisan category within natural persons .....97

III. Legal Entities and Joint Ventures .....98

    A. In general.....98

    B. Those listed in the law (TCC Articles 16 and 17).....98

        1. Commercial partnerships (trade companies) .....98

        2. Foundations .....99

        3. Associations .....100

4. Institutions and organisations established by public legal entities under private law .....	100
5. Public legal entities, public benefit associations, and certain foundations: exclusion from merchant status .....	100
6. Joint ventures and unincorporated commercial cooperation .....	101
7. Controlling undertaking and the broader group context .....	102
IV. Acquisition, Termination, and Scope of Merchant Status .....	103
A. Acquisition of merchant status .....	103
1. Natural persons .....	103
2. Legal persons .....	104
a. Commercial companies .....	104
b. Other legal entities .....	104
B. Termination of merchant status .....	105
1. Natural persons .....	105
2. Legal entities .....	105
a. Commercial companies .....	105
b. Other legal entities .....	106
3. Obligations related to the termination of merchant status .....	106
C. Scope of merchant status .....	107
1. Natural persons .....	107
2. Legal entities .....	107
V. Effects and Consequences of Merchant Status .....	108
A. Presumption that debts arise from commercial transactions (commercial presumption) .....	109
B. Special provisions applicable to merchants .....	110
1. Subject to bankruptcy .....	110
2. Absolute application of commercial customs and practices .....	110
3. Inability to request reduction of fees and penalties .....	111
4. Right to claim wages and interest .....	111
5. Subject to special rules of proof regarding invoices (TCC Article 21(2)) .....	112
a. Invoice .....	112
b. Evidential value of the invoice .....	112

6. Subject to special rule of proof regarding confirmation letters (TCC Article 21(3)).....	114
a. Confirmation letter .....	114
b. Evidential value and practical function .....	114
7. Facilitation in the exercise of the right of detention (Civil Code Article 950) .....	115
8. Agreement on jurisdiction (HMK 17-19).....	116
9. Law No. 6217 and the broader “acceleration” policy.....	116
C. Obligations to which merchants are subject .....	116
1. Selecting, using, registering, and announcing a trade name .....	116
2. Registering and announcing the commercial enterprise in the trade registry.....	117
3. Keeping commercial books .....	117
4. Issuing invoices and indicating payment on invoices.....	118
5. Obligation to act as a prudent businessperson .....	118
6. Registration with the Chamber of Commerce .....	119
D. Special provisions regarding commercial transactions where both parties are merchants .....	119
1. Commercial books as special evidence .....	119
2. Obligation to comply with certain notices and warnings in specific forms (TCC Article 18(3)) .....	120
3. Commercial sale and exchange of goods (TCC Article 23) .....	121
a. Partial performance / execution .....	121
b. Default of the buyer .....	121
c. Defective performance.....	122
aa. Rights arising from defects and the link to the Code of Obligations .....	123
bb. Form of defect notification.....	123
d. Limitation periods and the mandatory nature of commercial limitation rules .....	123
e. Consumer law boundary .....	124
E. Special provisions regarding supply contracts between commercial enterprises (TCC Article 1530(2)-(8)) .....	124
VI. Conclusion .....	125

Chapter 5 - Trade Name and Business Name .....	127
I. Commercial Identity in Turkish Commercial Law .....	129
A. Why commercial law regulates names .....	129
B. Trade name, business name, trademark, and other commercial signs .....	130
C. Sources and systematic position of the rules .....	131
II. The Trade Name .....	132
A. Definition and core functions .....	132
B. Legal nature and relationship with the commercial enterprise .....	133
C. The obligation to use the trade name in commercial life .....	134
D. Registration and announcement: the trade registry dimension .....	135
III. Formation of the Trade Name under the TCC .....	136
A. Structure: the “main element” and the role of additions .....	136
B. Natural person merchants .....	138
C. Partnership forms: collective and limited partnership companies .....	139
D. Capital companies and cooperatives .....	140
E. Other legal entities considered merchants and shipowning joint ventures .....	141
F. Distinctiveness and the nationwide priority principle .....	141
G. Appendices: truthfulness, public order, and restricted expressions .....	142
IV. Continuation, Branch Use, and Transfer of the Trade Name .....	143
A. Continuation despite changes in identity or partnership .....	143
B. Branch trade names and the unity of the enterprise .....	145
C. Transfer of the trade name and transfer of the commercial enterprise .....	145
V. Exclusive Right, Protection, and Sanctions .....	146
A. The exclusive right and its conditions .....	146
B. Infringement and the standard of commercial honesty .....	147
C. Civil remedies for trade name infringement .....	148
D. Relationship with unfair competition and trademark law .....	149
E. Notification duties and sanctions .....	150
VI. The Business Name .....	151
A. Definition and rationale .....	151
B. Registration, distinctiveness, and the scope of protection .....	152
C. Transfer and practical management of business names .....	153

VII. Conclusion: Commercial names as legal tools and legal assets.....	154
--	-----

Chapter 6 - Trademarks (Marks) in Turkish Law .....155

I. The place of trademarks in commercial life .....	155
II. Historical development and sources of Turkish trademark law .....	156
III. The legal framework and its institutional logic .....	158
IV. The concept of a trademark: sign, distinctiveness, and representation .....	160
V. Functions and types of trademarks .....	162
VI. Registration and the structure of trademark acquisition .....	163
VII. Priority, international registration, and the global dimension of trademarks ....	167
VIII. Grounds for refusal and invalidity: public interest and private conflict .....	169
IX. Rights conferred by registration and the scope of protection.....	172
X. Use of the trademark, limitations, and exhaustion .....	174
XI. Trademark transactions: assignment, licensing, and security interests .....	177
XII. Trademark infringement and the architecture of enforcement .....	178
XIII. Termination of trademark rights: expiry, invalidity, and revocation .....	181
XIV. Concluding observations.....	182

Chapter 7 - Unfair Competition (Haksız Rekabet).....183

I. Why unfair competition matters in commercial life .....	183
II. Unfair competition, competition law, and contractual non-compete: three different logics .....	184
III. Sources and systematic location of the rules in Turkish law .....	186
IV. The purpose clause and the general principle: the backbone of the system .....	188
V. The elements of unfair competition under the TCC.....	190
A. A “commercial behaviour or practice”.....	190
B. Deception or violation of good faith .....	191
C. Effect on competitive relationships .....	192
D. What is not required for “unfairness” and what is required for remedies .....	192
E. Evidence, perspective, and the “overall impression” approach.....	193
VI. The typical forms of unfair competition under Article 55 .....	193
A. Dishonest advertising and sales methods .....	194
B. Inducing breach or termination of contract .....	198

C. Unauthorised use of another’s work products .....	199
D. Unlawful disclosure of production and business secrets .....	200
E. Failure to comply with business terms .....	201
F. Using transaction terms contrary to good faith .....	202
VII. Civil actions and remedies: how unfair competition is enforced .....	203
A. Standing to sue and the protected interests .....	203
B. The main civil claims under Article 56 .....	204
C. Procedural context: competent courts, mediation, and evidence tools .....	205
D. Employer liability and the responsibility of media and platforms .....	206
E. Publication of judgment, limitation periods, and interim measures .....	207
VIII. Criminal liability: when unfair competition becomes a crime .....	209
IX. Appendix: A brief overview of Turkish competition law (antitrust) and its relationship with unfair competition .....	210
X. Conclusion: how to analyse an unfair competition problem.....	211
Chapter 8 - Commercial Agents and Other Merchant Assistants .....	213
I. Acting in the market through others: why merchant assistants matter.....	214
A. The economic rationale: scale, specialisation, and territorial reach .....	214
B. The legal rationale: representation, risk allocation, and market trust.....	215
C. Organ, legal representative, and assistant: a necessary distinction .....	216
II. A map of the institutions: classifications and practical use .....	217
A. Dependent and independent assistants .....	217
B. Direct and indirect representation .....	217
C. Continuity, territory, and professional activity.....	218
D. How to qualify a relationship in practice .....	218
III. Dependent merchant assistants .....	219
A. Commercial representative (ticari temsilci) .....	219
1. Concept and legal nature .....	219
a. Definition and policy function: the “alter ego” of the enterprise.....	219
b. Appointment, capacity, and internal legal basis.....	220
c. Publicity through registration and why it matters .....	220
2. Scope of authority and typical limits .....	221
a. General authority over enterprise transactions.....	221

b.	Transactions excluded without special authorisation.....	221
aa.	Dispositions over immovables and real rights.....	222
bb.	Negotiable instruments, borrowing, and litigation .....	223
3.	Limitation of authority and effects on third parties .....	223
a.	Territorial limitation and branch representation.....	223
b.	Joint representation and signature rules .....	224
c.	The logic of protecting good-faith third parties .....	224
4.	Termination and liability .....	225
a.	Ending the authority: revocation, resignation, and automatic termination.....	225
b.	Liability for unauthorised acts and internal responsibility.....	225
c.	Illustration: authority in a real-life scenario.....	226
B.	Commercial proxy and other authorised employees (ticari vekil).....	226
1.	Definition and function .....	226
2.	Appointment, publicity, and internal relationship .....	227
3.	Scope of authority and statutory limits.....	227
a.	Ordinary transactions of the enterprise .....	227
b.	Transactions requiring express authority: borrowing, negotiable instruments, and litigation .....	228
4.	Territorial aspect: acting mainly within the workplace .....	228
5.	Termination and external effects .....	229
6.	Illustration: the “branch manager” problem .....	229
C.	Marketing agent or travelling salesperson (pazarlamacı).....	230
1.	Concept and legal character .....	230
2.	Elements: mobility, continuity, remuneration, and dependence.....	230
3.	Authority in external relations: intermediary and contract-making marketing agents .....	231
4.	Duties of the marketing agent: loyalty, reporting, and protection of the enterprise .....	232
5.	Rights of the marketing agent: remuneration, expenses, and retention .....	232
6.	Termination and post-termination issues.....	233
IV.	Independent merchant assistants.....	234
A.	Broker (simsar / tellal) .....	234

1. Concept and distinguishing features.....	234
2. Remuneration: the success principle and causation.....	234
3. Duties: information, loyalty, and neutrality.....	235
4. Termination and limitation.....	235
B. Commission agent (komisyoncu).....	236
1. Indirect representation: acting in one's own name on another's account.....	236
2. External relationship with the third party: who owns what and who is liable?.....	236
3. Internal relationship with the principal: duties of instruction, care, and accounting.....	237
4. Rights of the commission agent: commission, expenses, and retention.....	237
5. Self-contracting and conflict-of-interest issues.....	238
6. Termination and limitation.....	238
C. Forwarding agent / transport commission agent (taşıma işleri komisyoncusu).....	239
1. Function in modern trade.....	239
2. Contractual structure and applicable rules.....	239
3. Duties and rights of the transport commission agent.....	239
4. Liability for loss and damage; limitation and solidarity.....	240
D. Commercial agency (acente) under the Turkish Commercial Code.....	241
1. Why agency is regulated separately.....	241
2. Definition and elements of agency (TCC Article 102).....	241
a. Independence and absence of organisational attachment.....	241
b. Continuous activity in a defined place or region.....	242
c. Acting for contracts concerning a commercial enterprise.....	242
d. Intermediary agents and contract-making agents.....	242
3. Supplementary rules and field of application (TCC Article 102/2–3 and Article 103).....	243
4. Exclusivity and conflict management (TCC Article 104).....	243
5. The agent's authority in external relations (TCC Articles 105–108).....	244
a. Authority to give and receive notices and protests (Article 105/1).....	244
b. Procedural representation: suing and being sued (Article 105/2).....	245
c. Acts requiring special written authority (Article 106).....	245

d. Contract-making authority and its registration (Article 107).....	246
e. Unauthorised contracts and ratification (Article 108).....	246
6. Duties of the agent (TCC Articles 109–112).....	247
a. Duty of care and loyalty (Article 109).....	247
b. Obligation to inform (Article 110).....	247
c. Precautionary duties regarding goods (Article 111).....	248
d. Duty to transfer money and account (Article 112).....	248
7. Rights of the agent (TCC Articles 113–119).....	248
a. Commission as the central right (Article 113).....	248
b. Commission after termination: protecting the agent’s completed work (Article 113/3) .....	249
c. When commission is earned and when it is lost (Article 114).....	250
d. Amount and payment of commission; access to information (Articles 115–116) .....	250
e. Expenses, interest, and retention right (Articles 117–119).....	251
8. Duties of the principal (TCC Article 120).....	252
9. Termination of agency and its immediate consequences (TCC Article 121) .....	252
10. Portfolio compensation: the “equalisation” claim (TCC Article 122)....	253
a. Legal idea and economic rationale .....	253
b. Conditions of the claim: benefit, loss, and equity (Article 122/1) .....	253
aa. Calculation and statutory cap (Article 122/2) .....	254
bb. Exclusions: fault and just cause (Article 122/3).....	255
cc. Non-waivability and time limit (Article 122/4) .....	255
c. Extension to exclusive distribution and similar relationships (Article 122/5).....	255
d. Illustration: a dispute about portfolio compensation and non- compete.....	256
11. Post-termination non-compete agreements (TCC Article 123) .....	257
a. Validity requirements and scope .....	257
b. Compensation for the restraint and waiver .....	257
c. Fault-based release and mandatory character .....	258
12. Drafting and compliance: building a legally reliable agency relationship .....	258

a.	Defining territory, products, and customer scope .....	258
b.	Authority design and signature compliance .....	259
c.	Commission clauses and data transparency .....	259
d.	Branding, marketing, and intellectual property .....	260
e.	Termination clauses, handover, and dispute avoidance .....	261
f.	Agency and competition law: exclusivity, non-compete, and market power .....	262
V.	Exclusive distribution and other long-term merchant assistance arrangements .....	262
A.	Exclusive distributor (tek satıcı) as a contract type .....	262
B.	Distinguishing distributor, agent, commission agent, and franchisee .....	263
C.	Termination and fairness: why agency concepts influence distribution .....	264
VI.	A practical method for analysing merchant assistant problems .....	264
A.	Step one: qualify the relationship before applying rules .....	264
B.	Step two: identify the relevant authority rule and its publicity mechanism .....	265
C.	Step three: allocate risk and select the remedy .....	266
D.	Worked illustrations: how the method operates in practice .....	266
E.	Common misconceptions and how to avoid them .....	267
VII.	Conclusion .....	269
Chapter 9 - The Trade Register and Commercial Books .....		271
I.	The Trade Register .....	272
A.	The function of the trade register and the principle of publicity .....	272
B.	Institutional organisation and supervision of the register .....	273
C.	Matters subject to registration and publication .....	274
D.	Registration procedures: request, form, time limits, and the registrar's examination .....	275
E.	Openness and publication: inspection rights and the Trade Registry Gazette .....	277
F.	Legal effects of registration and publication: opposability, reliance, and the allocation of risk .....	278
G.	Liability connected to the register: false declarations and registry responsibility .....	281
II.	Commercial Books .....	283
A.	Commercial books as a legal institution .....	283

B. The bookkeeping obligation: content, clarity and traceability .....	284
C. The scope of commercial books: accounting books and corporate books.....	285
D. Keeping books properly: language, integrity and electronic accessibility .....	287
E. Inventory and financial reporting: accounting periods and Turkish Accounting Standards .....	289
F. Relationship with tax law: dual compliance and coordination .....	290
G. Retention and storage: preserving the documentary memory of the enterprise .....	292
H. Submission and inspection in disputes: commercial books in litigation .....	294
I. Evidential value and consequences of improper bookkeeping .....	296
J. Conclusion: the documentary infrastructure of commercial life .....	298

Chapter 10 - International Commercial Sales Contracts.....299

I. International Commercial Sales Contracts as Legal and Commercial Structures .....	300
A. Internationality and the structure of the transaction .....	300
B. The contract as risk allocation, not merely exchange.....	301
C. The role of standard terms, commercial customs and documentary practice .....	302
D. Choice of law, dispute resolution, and the place of the CISG.....	302
E. Delivery, risk and title as distinct legal concepts .....	303
F. The centrality of payment terms.....	304
II. The CISG and the Law of the International Sale of Goods .....	304
A. Background, policy goals and the place of the CISG in Turkish law.....	304
B. The structure of the Convention and its systematic logic.....	305
C. The conditions of application: when does the CISG govern? .....	306
D. Party autonomy and the relationship between the CISG and domestic law ....	308
E. Interpretation, good faith, and the role of usages .....	308
F. Contract formation under the CISG: offer, acceptance and the reality of negotiation.....	310
G. Seller's obligations: delivery, documents and conformity.....	311
H. Buyer's obligations: payment, taking delivery and cooperation .....	313
I. Remedies, breach and the concept of fundamental breach.....	314
J. Notice, inspection and the management of non-conformity.....	315

K.	Cure, additional time, and the preservation of the contract .....	316
L.	The passing of risk under the CISG and its interaction with Incoterms .....	317
M.	Anticipatory breach and instalment deliveries .....	318
N.	Exemption from damages: impediments, force majeure and hardship.....	319
O.	Matters excluded from the CISG and practical drafting implications .....	319
P.	A practical illustration: aligning CISG obligations with trade terms and documents .....	320
III.	Incoterms and Payment Methods in International Commercial Sales .....	321
A.	Incoterms: meaning, legal nature and contractual function .....	321
B.	The main Incoterms rules in practice: what they allocate and what they leave open .....	322
C.	Payment methods and the legal logic of documentary payment .....	322
D.	Concluding observations: integrating law, trade terms and finance .....	324
	Chapter 11 - Negotiable Instruments Law in Türkiye .....	325
I.	The Concept and Legal Structure of Negotiable Instruments .....	326
A.	Documentary rights and the idea of incorporation .....	326
B.	Legitimacy, presentment, and the structure of disputes .....	328
C.	Negotiable instruments within the broader commercial law system .....	330
II.	Types of Negotiable Instruments and the Logic of Transfer .....	331
A.	Bearer, to-order, and registered instruments .....	332
B.	Monetary, goods, and investment instruments .....	333
C.	Paper-based instruments and dematerialised rights .....	334
III.	Transfer, Presentment, Defences, and Cancellation in the General Part .....	336
A.	Transfer mechanisms and the documentary chain of legitimacy .....	336
B.	The legal meaning of endorsement and common endorsement functions .....	338
C.	Presentment, surrender, and discharge of the debtor .....	339
D.	Defences and good faith: why underlying disputes do not always travel with the instrument.....	341
E.	Loss, theft, and judicial cancellation: restoring certainty when the document disappears .....	342
IV.	Bills of Exchange in Turkish Law: The Core Monetary Instruments .....	343
A.	The bill of exchange obligation: form, abstraction, and the independence of signatures .....	344

B.	The procedural dimension: why bills of exchange are enforced differently from ordinary claims .....	346
C.	Interaction with the underlying transaction and insolvency: instruments as credit technology .....	347
V.	The Bill of Exchange (Polçe): Structure, Operation, and Legal Effects .....	348
A.	Parties and the three-corner structure .....	349
B.	Formal elements and the meaning of strict form .....	349
C.	Acceptance: transforming the drawee into the principal debtor .....	351
D.	Endorsement and the network of secondary liability .....	352
E.	Aval: documentary guarantee as a tool of credit enhancement .....	353
F.	Maturity, presentment for payment, and the time structure of the bill .....	354
G.	Dishonour, protest, and recourse: enforcing the network of liability .....	355
H.	Limitation periods and the time sensitivity of bill obligations .....	356
VI.	The Promissory Note (Bono): The Dominant Instrument of Domestic Credit .....	357
A.	Structure and legal nature: a two-party bill of exchange instrument .....	358
B.	Formal elements, signatures, and the risk of blanks .....	359
C.	Payment, recourse, and enforcement: why promissory notes dominate practice .....	360
VII.	The Cheque (Çek): Payment through Banks and the Law of Dishonour .....	360
A.	The cheque relationship: drawer, drawee bank, and holder .....	361
B.	Formal elements and clauses that contradict the payment nature .....	362
C.	Presentment and payment: the cheque as a time-sensitive banking instrument .....	363
D.	Dishonour, protest equivalents, and the dual private-public character of cheque law .....	364
E.	Commercial practice and legal design: post-dating and security use .....	365
VIII.	Instruments Related to Bills of Exchange and Selected Contemporary Issues .....	366
A.	Bills similar to bills of exchange and other to-order bills: why form words matter .....	367
B.	Problem-solving with negotiable instruments: three illustrative scenarios .....	368
C.	Dematerialisation and information technology: negotiable-instrument logic beyond paper .....	369
D.	Enforcement as the practical backbone: why negotiable instruments are powerful in disputes .....	370

E. Concluding synthesis: negotiable instruments as disciplined commercial trust .....	371
Chapter 12 - Company Law (Partnerships) in Türkiye .....	373
I. Introduction .....	373
II. Why company law matters: the legal and economic logic of doing business through a company .....	374
III. The concept of a partnership and a company in Turkish law .....	375
A. Company as a contract and as an organisation .....	375
B. Company, commercial enterprise, and merchant: three related but distinct concepts.....	376
C. Legal personality and separate assets .....	377
IV. Sources and structure of Turkish company law .....	378
V. Classification of business associations: ordinary partnership and commercial companies .....	379
A. Numerus clausus of commercial company types .....	379
B. Person companies and capital companies .....	380
C. Ordinary partnership as a background model.....	381
D. Legal personality, registration, and the trade register as the dividing line .....	381
VI. Formation of commercial companies: from agreement to registration .....	382
A. The company contract as a constitutive document .....	382
B. The “establishment moment” and the emergence of legal personality.....	383
C. Registration as a constitutive act and the role of the trade registry .....	384
D. Mandatory provisions and the balance between flexibility and standardisation .....	385
VII. Contributions and capital: what partners bring, how value is measured, and why capital maintenance matters .....	385
A. The legal meaning of “capital” in company law .....	385
B. What can be contributed as capital: the breadth of permissible contributions.....	386
C. Valuation of in-kind contributions and the role of expert appraisal .....	387
D. Performance of the capital contribution obligation and remedies for default .....	387
E. Capital maintenance and the prohibition of return of capital .....	388

VIII. Internal governance and external representation: who can bind the company?.....	389
A. The organ principle and the distinction between management and representation .....	389
B. Representation authority and its disclosure through the trade registry .....	389
C. The business subject, the “ultra vires” problem, and the protection of third parties .....	390
D. Fiduciary duties in governance: care, loyalty, and prudent management.....	391
E. Minority protection and the problem of “internal inequality” .....	391
IX. Person companies: the collective company and the limited partnership .....	392
A. Why person companies still matter .....	392
B. The collective company (kollektif şirket) .....	393
1. Concept and defining features .....	393
2. Formation and registration .....	393
3. Management and representation.....	393
4. Partner liability and the logic of creditor protection.....	394
5. Non-compete and loyalty obligations.....	394
6. Transfer of partnership interest, exit, and expulsion .....	395
C. The limited partnership (komandit şirket).....	395
1. Structure: general partners and limited partners .....	395
2. Formation, trade name, and registration .....	396
3. Management and representation.....	396
4. Liability of limited partners and the idea of the “liability amount” .....	396
5. Dissolution and liquidation .....	397
X. Capital companies I: the joint stock company (anonim şirket).....	397
A. The joint stock company’s place in Turkish commercial life .....	397
B. Definition and core legal consequences .....	398
C. Purpose and subject, and the modern role of the business subject clause .....	398
D. Minimum capital and the idea of “capital adequacy” .....	399
E. Establishment and registration; the pre-incorporation liability bridge .....	399
F. Capital contribution and payment rules: why the law insists on discipline .....	400
G. Shares and membership: the structure of participation .....	401
H. Corporate organs: general assembly and board of directors.....	402

I.	Representation, signature, and the binding effect of directors' acts .....	403
J.	Shareholder duties beyond capital: the "no additional debt" principle .....	403
K.	Dividend distribution, reserves, and the discipline of lawful distributions .....	404
L.	Directors' and founders' liability: accountability mechanisms .....	404
M.	Minority rights, judicial remedies, and the role of courts .....	405
N.	Exit, dissolution, and structural flexibility .....	405
XI.	Capital companies II: the limited liability company (limited şirket) .....	406
A.	The limited liability company as a "hybrid" of capital and partnership logic.....	406
B.	Definition and core features .....	406
C.	Number of partners and the logic of a "closed" company.....	407
D.	The company contract: form, content, and mandatory rules .....	408
E.	Registration and legal personality; pre-registration liability .....	408
F.	Basic capital, capital shares, and the economic meaning of "membership" ...	409
G.	Additional payment obligations and ancillary performance obligations .....	409
H.	Transfer of basic capital shares and the controlled membership model .....	410
I.	Management and representation: managers, authority, and accountability .....	411
J.	Partner rights: information, voting, profit share, and protection against oppression .....	412
K.	Limited liability and its statutory and practical limits .....	412
L.	Termination, expulsion, and dissolution: continuity and crisis management in a closed company.....	413
M.	Comparison with joint stock companies: choosing between AŞ and Ltd .....	414
XII.	Limited partnership whose capital is divided into shares: a hybrid capital company .....	414
XIII.	Cooperatives: enterprise with a member-oriented purpose .....	415
A.	Why cooperatives are included in commercial company law .....	415
B.	Membership logic: openness, equality, and democratic governance .....	415
C.	Liability and financial structure .....	416
D.	Practical relevance and regulatory context.....	416
XIV.	Structural changes: amendments, capital changes, mergers, demergers, and conversions .....	416
A.	The dynamic nature of corporate life .....	416
B.	Amendments of the constitutive document .....	417

XXVIII

C. Capital increases and reductions as structural tools .....	417
D. Merger: combining enterprises through universal succession.....	418
E. Demerger and conversion: splitting and transforming companies .....	418
XV. Groups of companies and controlling undertakings.....	419
A. Economic reality of corporate groups .....	419
B. Concept of control and the identification of the controlling enterprise .....	419
C. Protection of the subsidiary: compensation, reporting, and liability .....	420
XVI. Termination, dissolution, and liquidation: how companies end.....	420
A. Dissolution versus liquidation: conceptual distinction .....	420
B. Grounds for dissolution in different company types .....	421
C. Liquidation process and creditor protection .....	421
D. Insolvency and bankruptcy: when termination is driven by inability to pay ...	422
E. Continuation mechanisms: merger, conversion, and restructuring as alternatives to termination.....	422
XVII. Concluding observations: learning to “read” company law problems .....	422
XVIII. A statutory roadmap for further study.....	423
Bibliography.....	425